

“Elevate” Program Challenge for Week 22 Week beginning April 2

Russ – Grade 7/8

The Bible provides the only sure set of moral principles for determining what is right or wrong in a given situation. Ethics can be defined as moral principles and values used to determine right or wrong. The world develops moral compasses based on personal needs and desires or by justifying actions by the “end good.” The Bible-God’s Truth-provides the only sure set of moral principles. Practical, Biblical guidelines for ethics can be found throughout Scripture.

Bill – Grade 9/10

Lessons on the Lord’s Prayer: We call God our Father because as his children and we need to get to know him as our Father, through His Son, Jesus. In this statement we are asking God to make His Name higher than any other. He helps us to know and reflect the love of His presence in our lives. Giving our all to God He becomes our moral compass. God’s Holiness calls us to neighborly love as well that spreads to all that the Holy God is our Lord. How great is the love the Father has lavished upon us that we should be called Children of God!

Doug – Grade 11/12

Over the next two weeks, we will be focusing on the Kingdom - now, and to come. We are exploring the Reformed perspective on this essential doctrine that covers all of life’s experiences, relationships, ambitions, and trials under the umbrella of God’s sovereignty. Students are being challenged to observe the Kingdom everywhere, while anticipating and longing for its eventual (and eternal) fulfillment.

Elevate Challenge of the Week

The communal act of ELEVATE (ing) is our connection to each other through God’s spirit at work among us. Prayer is a vital aspect of our communion and our connection both to God and each other. We stake out our claim on God’s grace by opening our hearts and by seeing and following His lead!
